

Sri Advaitastaka

Eight Prayers Glorifying Lord Advaita

Text 1

ganga-tire tat-payobhis tulasyah patraih puspaih prema-hunkara-ghosaih prakatyartham gauram aradhayad yah sriladvaitacaryam etam prapadye

Let me surrender to Srila Advaita Acarya, who with tulasi leaves, flowers, water from the Ganges' shore, and loud calls of love, worshiped Lord Gaura and begged Him to appear.

Text 2

yad-dhunkaraih prema-sindhora vikarair akrstah san gaura-goloka-nathah avirbhutah sri-navadvipa-madhye sriladvaitacaryam etam prapadye

Let me surrender to Srila Advaita Acarya. Attracted by His loud calls, the golden Lord of Goloka Vrndavana, who is an ocean of ecstatic love, appeared in Sri Navadvipa.

Text 3

brahmadimam durlabha-prema-purair adinam yah plavayam asa lokam avirbhavya srila-caitanyacandram sriladvaitacaryam etam prapadye

Let me surrender to Srila Advaita Acarya who, by making the moon of Lord Caitanya rise, flooded the world with a love even Brahma and the great demigods cannot attain.

Text 4

sri-caitanyah sarva-sakti-prapurno yasyaivaja-matrato 'ntardarde 'pi durvijeyam yasya karunya-krtyam sriladvaitacaryam etam prapadye

Let me surrender to Srila Advaita Acarya, whose mercy is beyond understanding, and by whose request alone all-powerful Lord Caitanya disappeared from this world.

Text 5

srsti-sthity-antam vidhatum pravrtta yasyamsamsah brahma-visnu-isvarakhyah yenabhinnam tam maha-visnu-rupam sriladvaitacaryam etam prapadye

Let me surrender to Srila Advaita Acarya, who is not different from the form of Lord Maha-Visnu, and whose parts and parcels are the Brahma, Visnu, and Siva engaged in the creation, maintenance, and destruction of the worlds.

Text 6

kasmimscid yah sruyate casrayatvat sambhor ittham sambhavan-nama dhama sarvaradhyam bhakti-matraika-sadhyam sriladvaitacaryam etam prapadye

Let me surrender to Srila Advaita Acarya, who is worshiped by all, who is attained only by devotional service, and who, as is heard in a certain Vedic literature, because He is Lord Siva's shelter, has a name and glory like Lord Siva's.

Text 7

sita-namni preyasi prema-purna putro yasyapy acyutananda-nama sri-caitanya-prema-pura-prapurnah sriladvaitacaryam etam prapadye

Let me surrender to Srila Advaita Acarya, who is flooded with love for Lord Caitanya, and whose beloved Sita-devi and son Acyutananda are also filled with love.

Text 8

nityanandadvaitato 'dvaita-nama bhaktyakhyanad yah sad-acarya-nama sasvac-cetah-sacarad-gaura-dhama sriladvaitacaryam etam prapadye

Let me surrender to Srila Advaita Acarya, whose heart is Lord Gaura's eternal home, who is named Advaita because He is not (a) different (dvaita) from Lord Nityananda, and who is named Acarya because He teaches devotional service.

Text 9

pratah pritah pratyaham sampathed yah sitanathasyastakam suddha-buddhih so 'yam samyak tasya padaravinde vandan bhaktim tat-priyatvam prayati

A person whose intelligence is pure and who every morning happily reads these eight verses glorifying Lord Advaita, the husband of Sita, attains devotion for His lotus feet and becomes dear to Him.
